Search Notes

Dear Examiner Frenel:

Please find attached the results of your search for the above-referenced case. The search was conducted in the template files.

I would have listed references of potential interest in the first part of the search results, if there had been any. However, please be sure to scan through the entire report. There may be references that you might find useful which I missed.

If you have any questions about the search, or need a refocus, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Thank you for using the EIC, and we look forward to your next search!

Detailed Description:

...funds in compliance with US law and applicable Internal Revenue Service regulations, commonly known as Flexible Spending Accounts (FSA), fall short of being a truly effective and economically sound vehicle for handling qualified medical... ...Internal Revenue code. They do not permit plan participants to act as normal consumers. Instead

FSA rules force the participant to predict exactly his healthcare expenses for a 12-month period... ..can no longer gain tax-advantaged payment for qualified medical expenses which exceed the budgeted FSA amount. Moreover, there's a perceived "overcomplexity" of management: the current accounts do not provide...health freedom account consistent with the disclosed embodiments of the invention is compliant with IRC (section) 105. In particular, this accruable account (shown in Fig. 1 as accruable account 230) has the... ..funds from year to year (in stark contrast with conventional employee funded IRC (section) 125 flexible spending accounts).

INTEGRATING DEFINED CONTRIBUTION ACCOUNTS INTO A CLAIM PAYMENT PROCESSING SYSTEM FIELD

[00011 Embodiments of the invention relate to... ..field of claim payment processing systems. More particularly, embodiments of the invention relate to integrating defined contribution accounts into a claim payment processing system.

DESCRIPTION OF RELATED ART

[0002] The cost of... ..goverimient has enabled the establishment of certain tax-favored health care funding vehicles. [00031 Typically, defined contribution plans are tax-exempt spending accounts that are generally used in conjunction with more traditional... care and/or dependent care, such as a child's daycare expenses. [00041 In fact, defined contribution accounts are the fastest-growing segment of the health insurance industry, and their market share... cost control for insurance providers and businesses 100051 Presently, there are two major types of defined contribution accounts, Health Reimbursement Arrangements (HRAs) and Flexible Spending Accounts (FSAs). Flexible Spending Accounts allow members to contribute money on a pre-tax basis to an account that can... expenses. If the deductible is not met, health expenses are paid for out of the HRA. There is - typically a gap between the two during which the member is responsible for his or her own expenses. Any remaining HRA contributions may be carried over to the next year.

... The Congressional Joint Committee on Taxation estimated that the medical savings accounts would cost the Treasury $1.8 billion over seven years, while the increased tax deductions for self-employed people would cost $1.1 billion over seven years. The committee estimated that one million households would establish medical savings accounts, while at least 3.5 million self-employed people would take the deduction for health insurance.

Abstract:

The Internal Revenue Code Section 105 allows self- employed business owners a 100% tax deduction for family health care expenses, which include health insurance... ..life, disability, and qualified long-term care premiums. The plan establishes a "reimbursement" from the business owner to all eligible employees, including an employed spouse, for family medical expenses. This reimbursement covers... ..2,000 or more in new spendable income is generated with the introduction of a Section 105 medical reimbursement plan for a self -employed client. Section 79 term sales are a natural fit with a Section 105 medical reimbursement plan as premiums up to $50,000 in coverage for the spouse-employee... ..identify business owners who will benefit the most from this type of deduction. First, the self-employed persons must be an owner of the business. Second, an employment relationship must exist between the business owner and his/her spouse. Third, this type of deduction works best for businesses with three or fewer employees. Article discusses the financial benefits offered by a Medical Savings Account compared to a 105 plan.
